Dear Janice,

I have to say, this time of year is my absolute favorite. Pumpkin pie, family gatherings, fall spice smells in the air (whether it's coming from a candle or not!)...everything about November is warm and satisfying. The weather has finally turned to 'chilly' for us in Arizona, and people couldn't be more excited. I truly understand why we have so many 'winter visitors' in Arizona -- it's the same reason I live here too!

Happy Thanksgiving to each of you and your families. Enjoy the food, enjoy the company, enjoy the spirit of giving thanks!

Please keep in mind that drowning is not only a warm weather danger. Any open water, bathtubs, canals and even covered swimming pools can be a risk. Always maintain eye-to-eye contact with children around water.

Waterworks On Wheels is PROUD of our 2011 swimmers! We hope to see you all back in the pool in 2012.

Personal Notes from Janice...

Perry & I at dinner in Tubac, AZ

This past weekend Perry and I spent a great weekend in Tubac, Arizona compliments of the Tubac Golf Resort and Spa. Tubac is one of Arizona's best kept secrets. Their motto is "Where history and art meet".

Tubac is south of Tucson (about 40 minutes from the airport) and just north of Nogales. The shopping is awesome and the Tubac Resort and Spa has very cute "haciendas" that are very cozy. We had a great time! The picture above is of this amazing restaurant that we had a spectacular meal at -- Elvira's. The picture below is at the resort, overlooking part of the famous golf course where "Tin Cup" (Kevin Costner and Rene' Russo) was filmed in 1996. We had some rain and tried to hike on Sunday, but the reward for a rainy day was one of the most vivid rainbows we've ever seen.

I think I mentioned that we are remodeling our downstairs one room at a time now that we are empty nesters for good (?). Erin's old room turned guest room will be complete by Thanksgiving with hexagon Terracada tile, my mom's old throw rug and a fresh new coat of sea green paint. Now I'm working on all the new bedding and fun pillow arrangements and other accents!

Erin has been super busy taking trips with the cheerleaders, friends' weddings, and (of course) practicing and working a lot. Her and I look forward to planning the Thanksgiving menu and decor for the holiday table. Tara is busy in New York battling the subways to work in the cold and watching the Cardinals games at a local NY bar her and boyfriend Kevin discovered was a Arizona Cardinals fans bar. We look forward to seeing her next week for Thanksgiving! Luke has been working on interviews for new jobs and it looks like he has landed one. Since Luke changes what he is doing with work and school weekly, let's just leave this one as a mystery for now!

Yours in Health,

Janice
